I'm back at my desk – what time do you think you all will be taking lunch?

What day is this?

Yesterday was the first day we saw any devastation. It was heartbreaking.

We have a 10am conference call every morning.

I just reserved a conference room at the local community college library. The public library charges $10 an hour.

Our days typically start at 7:30am and end close to 8pm. No days off so far.

Let me know your availability during lunch time.

Good morning, Ms. Pam –

Just checking in with you – hoping that all is well.

Please give me a call when you catch a break to let me know how things are going.

Are they keeping you busy?
